

Dry Utility Consulting, Coordination & Application Design

Doing business person to person

Coordinating the installation and/or relocation of dry utilities isn't often at the top of a landowner or developer's to-do list, but neglecting this critical area can throw an entire project off schedule. Hiring Moote's Dry Utility Team will ensure your utility plans are submitted and approved in a timely manner, thus avoiding costly delays in obtaining certificates of occupancy.

Moote has a combined experience of more than 30 years in dry utility consulting and has built excellent relationships with all companies that provide electricity, gas, phone, fiber optics, cable TV, and other utility services.

We act as your agent in the process including:

- Coordination of plans, contracts, and associated easements
- Monitoring availability and status of facilities reports
- Plot utility information
- Identification of potential utility conflicts
- Recommendations on cost-effective alternatives
- Expedite relocation or removal of utilities in conflict
- Alternative energy technology research
- Utility composites
- Crossing plan
